1. Soviet TMSS officials in Sharphoi claim that in six Soviet military schools, including the Soviet Military Academy, compelsory courses in the Foliah language have been introduced. These TASS officials point to this as evidence of a very friendly attitude on the part of the USSR toward Poland; this, they claim, is in strong contrast to the attitude of the old Tsarist Government, which forced Poles to Laura Russian.

2. S. Czapla, a Polish priest who arrived in Shanghei cometime in 1947 from Poland, receives information in Shanghei through Roman Catholic channels regarding conditions in Poland.

According to Czapla, efficers and men of the Polish Gendarmerie, Polish Border Guards and the Secret Police who have been recently "imported" from the USSR cannot speak Polish but wear Polish uniforms.

When asked why these arrivals from the USSR wear Polish uniforms, a high Polish official replied that this was part of a "Soviet Le M Lease Program for Allies".
